

THE

For great customer service and problem solving

L.A.S.T METHOD

LISTEN

to the customer first, and pay attention to what the real reason behind his frustration is.

APOLOGIZE

for what has happened. Remember: It's not personal.

SOLVE

the problem and try to go the extra mile whenever possible.

THANK

the customer for their patience and for bringing the problem to our attention.